

ULS Technology plc (The “Group”)

London Stock Exchange’s ‘1000 Companies to Inspire Britain’ 2019

ULS Technology plc (AIM:ULS), the provider of online B2B platforms for the UK conveyancing and financial intermediary markets, announces that it has been recognised in the London Stock Exchange’s ‘1000 Companies to inspire Britain 2019’ report.

The report identifies fastest-growing and most dynamic small and medium sized businesses (SMEs) across the UK.

To be selected for the list, businesses had to demonstrate not only positive revenue growth over the last three years but also outperform their sector peers. The result is a unique and varied list of the UK’s most dynamic companies. More details on the Companies to Inspire reports and methodology can be found online at www.1000companies.com.

Steve Goodall, Chief Executive of ULS Technology plc, commented:

“We are delighted to have been included in ‘1000 Companies to Inspire Britain’ which is a tremendous accolade. As you will have seen in our recent results the business has performed well despite market conditions and we believe we are well placed to strengthen our position and further develop high margin routes to market.”

David Schwimmer, CEO, London Stock Exchange Group:

“Congratulations to all the companies selected for inclusion in the sixth edition of London Stock Exchange Group’s 1000 Companies to Inspire Britain report, which identifies the UK’s most dynamic SMEs. SMEs drive growth, innovation and job creation and are the lifeblood of the British economy. We believe that supporting the growth of these businesses is critical to the UK economy and the creation of a society that works for everyone.”
